

Bonnie Krims

as seen in:

Boston Globe Magazine

"Beyond Beige"

February 12, 2006

TREND:
complex neutrals

Architectural color consultant Bonnie Krims predicts that a complex neutral palette will move to house exteriors while still remaining popular for interior decor. "It's all those colors that take a while to describe - shades of white, taupe, gray that are a little complicated," she says. "Using these colors on the exterior, with a lovely trim color or an accent or two, people can change the look of a house dramatically."

